

HORTICULTURAL SCIENCE SEMINARS

Fall SEMESTER, 2006

Mondays, 3:00 pm, 159 Kilgore Hall

- September 20      "The Carolina Vegetation Survey - Providing Targets for Conservation, Management, and Restoration", Dr. Robert Peet, Professor and Chair, Dept of Biology, UNC-Chapel Hill
***Note: Seminar on Wednesday in 121 Kilgore***
- September 25      "Plant Variety Protection and the Commercialization of Plant Varieties", Mr. Billy B. Houghteling, Assistant Director, Office of Technology Transfer, NCSU
- October 2          Graduate Student Seminar:
"Establishing Best Management Practices for Boron Deficiency in Bedding Plant Plugs", Mr. Brian Krug, Dept of Horticultural Science, NCSU
- October 16        "metabolomics_and_proteomics@ncsu.edu", Dr. Nigel Deighton, Director, Metabolomics and Proteomics Laboratory, Dept of Toxicology, NCSU
- October 23        Graduate Student Seminars:
"Genetic and Quantitative Analysis of Red Raspberry (Rubus idaeus) for Heat Tolerance and Longer Chilling Requirement", Mr. Ramon Molina Bravo, Dept of Horticultural Science, NCSU
"Induction of Allelochemicals in Rye", Ms. Cristine Sickler, Dept of Horticultural Science, NCSU
- October 30        "Musings of a Plant Retailer- Trends from Horticulture and Business", Mr. Joe Stoffregen, Homewood Nursery and Garden Center, Raleigh, NC
- November 6        "Reflections of a North Carolina Berry Breeder", Dr. Jim Ballington, Professor, Dept of Horticultural Science, NCSU
- November 20      "Genome Database for Roseaceae", Dr. Doreen Main, Associate Scientist/Associate Professor of Bioinformatics, Dept of Horticulture and Landscape Architecture, Washington State University
- November 27      "Golden LEAF Foundation Successes and Future Directions", Mr. Ted Lord, Program Officer, Golden LEAF Foundation
- December 4        "Hellebores in Horticulture", Ms. Judith Knot Tyler and Mr. Richard Tyler, Pine Knot Farms, Clarksville, VA (specializing in Helleborus and shade garden plants)

*October 9th, and November 13th are open for HS Faculty Seminars*